

What Is Colostrum Extract? And how can it help me?

What Is Colostrum?

Have you ever heard of Colostrum? Maybe you haven't, but you've probably consumed it. Colostrum is the first available food you consume immediately after leaving your mother's womb.

Colostrum is ingested when you are breastfed. Colostrum is provided to babies even before the breast milk starts to flow generally referred to as foremilk.

It is important to know Colostrum is completely different from milk. It is a useful and beneficial mixture of many amazing nutrients that provide immune strength to newborns. It is however, applicable to people of all ages. In fact, Colostrum is an enormously effective and useful substance that is hugely valuable to all mammals.

How Many Kinds Of Colostrum Are Available?

Bovine Colostrum is utilized by most manufacturers that produce human-consumable Colostrum. However there is a new, revolutionary product called Fortizel® with Augmentsodine® Colostrum Extract that is prepared by a special, patented process. This potent Colostrum Extract is 10-20 times stronger than regular Colostrum. Fortizel® is the lone competitor in its segment that is available internationally.

What Are The Main Functions Of Colostrum Extract?

Colostrum Extract (Fortizel®) restructures and revitalizes your immune system. If the immune system is too weak, Fortizel® strengthens it. If your immune system is over stimulated, causing allergies and autoimmune diseases (such as rheumatism, multiple sclerosis and eczema), Colostrum helps to normalize immune function.

What Are The Affects of Growth Factors Contained In Colostrum Extract?

Colostrum Extract contains natural growth factors which ensure quick recovery and normalization after cells divide. Fortizel® also improves the integrity of the gastro-intestinal tract and its functions and the utility of the neuro-endocrine system. In addition, Fortizel® helps make your muscles at optimum level.

Conclusion

Colostrum Extract is a miraculous substance, provided by nature and enhanced by man, with huge external and internal benefits to the human body. It is a proven medicine for protecting and energising the body to fight against illness, disease and disorders.